I. Introduction to the Taiwan Stock Exchange

The Taiwan Stock Exchange (namely the "TWSE") is a government-franchised and privately owned corporation responsible for operating and developing the domestic securities market. It is currently governed by 15 directors and three supervisors, with at least one-third of the members appointed by the national government. The TWSE's primary business operations include listing, trading, settlement and surveillance. These comprise pre-listing consultations, post-listing governance and supervision, maintaining market order, brokerage services, investor protection, clearing and settlement operations, safeguarding against market default, and monitoring of illegal transactions. The TWSE's 16 departmental offices and staff of 620 provide comprehensive services to the stock market.

Established in 1961, the TWSE has serviced the market in good faith for well over five decades. Our mission is to ensure liquid securities and investment opportunities for the public, inject momentum into the national economy and enhance the development of enterprises as well to attract private capital. With the multitude of diverse investment tools available in this day and age, the TWSE remains, as in the past, the primary platform for capital market financing and investment.
